Background/History/Details:

Each of Georgia's counties partner with the State of Georgia, working to ensure a high quality of life for all of Georgia's citizens. Counties serve as the administrative arm of state government, providing numerous services that protect the health, safety, and well-being of the people, and they foster the growth of business opportunities throughout Georgia.

In 1914, the ACCG was founded when county commissioners came together to support "the good roads movement" by committing county funds to improve state roads and by backing the creation of the state's first highway department. Since its inception, the ACCG has served Georgia's counties and cities with integrity, providing credible leadership on numerous public policy issues facing the state and its people. Through its history,it has broadened its purpose beyond legislative advocacy to include leadership development, civic and community engagement, member services, and volume-pricing programs designed to meet government needs while saving taxpayer dollars.
